We had the honor of receiving a 2009 SEMA Global Media Award for Ball Swappers. We were selected by a panel of international judges for introducing one of the best new products at this year's SEMA Show. We are among an elite group of companies to have received one of the SEMA Show's highest honors.

The voting panel of judges reviewed over 2,000 new products that were introduced at this year's show. From these the journalists selected a limited number of products that would be of the most interest to their publications' readers and most likely to succeed commercially in their respective countries. Publications from 16 countries were represented on the judges panel this year.
